

The IET and Inspec Journals Price List 2012

Including two new titles for 2012

IET Journals

The IET publishes a suite of 22 research journals and 2 letters journals spanning the entire spectrum of engineering and technology. The range expands in March 2012 with the addition of two new titles: IET Biometrics and IET Networks.

The IET Research Journals contain both original and review papers relating to all disciplines in electrical, electronics, computing, control, biomedical and communications technologies. The IET Letters Journals portfolio comprises the flagship journals title Electronics Letters, internationally renowned for its exclusively interdisciplinary coverage and rapid time to publication, and Micro & Nano Letters, devoted to the express publication of results in the exciting field of micro and nanotechnology.

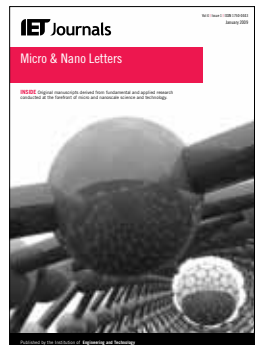

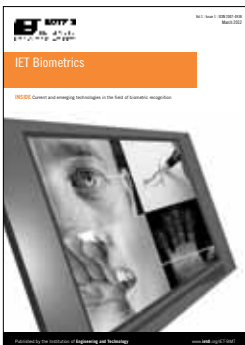

IET Journals offer:

- Greater quality: there have been some notable jumps in impact factor again this year, particularly on the IET Renewable Power Generation journal.
- Quicker delivery: two journals, IET Signal Processing and IET Image Processing are increasing in frequency.
- Additional coverage: two new journals will launch in March 2012 (IET Biometrics and IET Networks).

If you prefer to have our journals in print and online then for extra value you can choose to receive both formats for only 20% extra (based on the price for print).

Whatever your needs or budget, we have the package to suit including our IET Research Journals Complete Package (24 titles), which is a popular choice for institutional subscribers. Our All Journal Package includes all 26 Research Journals, Electronics Letters and Micro & Nano Letters, saving you even more money. Alternatively, for more flexibility, opt for one of our multi-title packages and add as many titles as you like. However, if you are only interested in a specific area of engineering and technology, you can choose from one of our sector packages.

Inspec Journals

Inspec, the leading bibliographic database in physics, electrical engineering and electronics, computers and control, mechanical and production engineering, and information technology, contains over 12 million scientific and technical papers, pushing forward the boundaries of your research capability. With 4,000 journal titles, numerous books, reports and dissertations, plus, over 2,000 conference proceedings are scanned, abstracted and indexed each year; that's 725,000 records annually.

Other Publications

Authoritative, relevant and insightful, E&T (Engineering & Technology) provides news, features, commentary and analysis on every aspect of science, engineering and technology making it the most comprehensive publication of its type. The IET's award-winning flagship magazine is read by members, business partners and stakeholders.

The IET also publishes E&Te (Engineering & Technology Education) and the award-winning Flipside magazine. E&Te is a classroom resource magazine for teachers packed with practical ideas and articles covering the breadth of the STEM curriculum. Flipside is a magazine for teenagers. Educational, weird, wonderful and right up to date, Flipside encourages an interest in STEM by showing how science and technology underpin the world we live in.
